Each food plays a role in your baby's development

How to Use the Olo Vouchers

Olo foods are given to feed the baby you're carrying.

Your Olo practitioner will give you the vouchers when you meet, and you can redeem them for food.

Here's how to use the vouchers:

- 1 Bring the vouchers with you when you go grocery shopping.

Tip: Keep them in your wallet. That way you'll be sure to never forget them.

- 2 At the store, choose the products that match the food on each voucher.

Pay attention to the brand and quantity to select. All this information is on the voucher.

- 3 At the cash register, give the voucher with the food to get it for free.

Please note

Stores are not obligated to accept Olo vouchers. So, it might be a good idea to make sure they accept them before you start shopping. If a store refuses the vouchers, talk to your Olo practitioner about it or email info@fondationolo.ca.
